

GALLOWAY HILLS SLATES

SLATE	LOCATION	QUOTE STARTS... h1	AUCHTY	The Auchty was
h3	BACK HILL	They tell you
h4	CALDONS	A bit farmhouse h5	CALDONS	The farm sits four
h6	CLASHDAN	the most thunder
h7	CLASHDAN	should certainly be climbed
h8	COORAN	it is not for any man
h9	CRAIGNAIRNY	I had spent a night h10	CURLEYWEE	High up on the side h11	CURLEYWEE	there is a mist
h12	DUNGEON	Lochs deep and solemn
h13	DUNGEON	The mountains
h14	DUNGEON	An eagle hung h15	DUNGEON	Now the Dungeon h16	DUNGEON	they say that when
h17	DUNGEON	sound in wind
h18	DUNGEON	It is a far cry h19	DUNGEON	Indeed as often h20	GAIRLAND BURN	Flashes downwards h21	GALLOWAY	Galloway is a wide h22	GLENHEAD	Glenead lying snug h23	GLENHEAD	Glenhead I saw h24	GLENTROOL	like a Perthshire loch h25	GLENTROOL	The Road gradients h26	KIRREOCH	The Kirreoch hills h27	LAMACHAN	As we rise h28	LOCH ENOCH	Loch Enoch is the goal
h29	LOCH ENOCH	So truly another world
h30	LOCH NELDRICKEN	A mass of green h31	LOCH VALLEY	too strong for h32	MERRICK	Any cuif can write h33	MERRICK	over the hip of
h34	MULLWHARCHER	A huge conical h35	MURDER HOLE	with open mouth h36	NICK O DUNGEON	I clambered upwards h37	SESSION STONE	Opposite the Session h2	SHIEL O DUNGEON	A strange place
h38	TONSKEEN	Tonskeen
h39	WOLFS SLOCK	A scramble among

#GoCrocketteering GALLOWAY HILLS TRAILS

All of these slates are in remote places and are suitable only for the experienced hill walker with appropriate navigational aids or a local guide.

From South

Curleywee, Lamachan, Glenhead, Glentrool, Gairland Burn , Loch Valley (into Dungeon)

Tonskeen, Caldons ,Merrick (into Dungeon)

Dungeon Hills – and Lochs: Neldricken, Enoch, Wolfs Slock, Craignairny, Nick o’ Dungeon, Back Hill o Bush

To North

Mullwharchar, Auchty, Session Stone

When you find your slates, take a picture. Ideally, take one of yourself with the slate, and one of the slate in its immediate environment.

If you have a smartphone you can upload this directly to INSTAGRAM, gallowayraiders, FACEBOOK @discoveringcrockett OR TWITTER @gallowayraiders. Include a caption saying exactly where the slate (and you) were.

If you are using a camera, please either upload pictures to social media, or email them to us at gallowayraiders@gmail.com.

PLEASE REGISTER with #GoCrocketteering at www.gallowayraiders.co.uk to be kept up to date with information about slate sites, to send in your #SlateSelfies and to claim your free ebooks.

PLEASE LEAVE SLATES WHERE YOU FIND THEM AND IN AN OBVIOUS LOCATION, SO OTHERS MAY ENJOY THEM TOO.